

Global Guides

Staff

1. Uplift your fellow staff members.
2. Walk with a purpose.
3. Use common sense and a level head when dealing with students and their parents.
4. Realize you are part of a revolution.
5. See the potential in every child.
6. Create magic.
7. Be innovative and bold in your plans and actions.
8. Teach to the brightest and hold all to that expectation. If a child learns differently, do not lower expectations; teach them differently.
9. Foster teacher - student - parent relationships.
10. Listen to and seek advice for ways to grow.
11. Choose to be HAPPY.
12. Emphasize strength of character.
13. Create global citizens.
14. Put effort into making moments.
15. Keep all spaces clean, spotless, and tidy.
16. Choose not to complain or gossip.
17. Be consistent with consequences.
18. Be productive, not just active.
19. Go right to the source of a problem when there's an issue. Don't spread drama or negativity around the school.
20. Seek a bond with every child.
21. Ask people how they are doing. Show sincere interest and mean it.
22. Have fun with each other. PLAY. Place laughter in our building, and enjoy the company of one another.
23. Accept criticism, learn from it, and move on. Don't have a "defensive" attitude.
24. Be strict, stern, and fair with discipline. Be a mentor to students, not a friend.
25. Never say "shhh."
26. Never threaten students that you will tell Mr. Byard or Mrs. Vick if they don't behave. It takes away your authority.
27. Keep your promises to students; if you tell them you are going to do something, it must happen.
28. Inspire WORK ETHIC within our students.
29. Be ready for unhappy parents. When they come, be calm, let them vent, don't take it personally, and love them for caring for their child, regardless of the inappropriate way they may be showing it.
30. Show respect in meetings by not opening wrappers, eating loudly, or using your phone for any purposes. We should track the speaker in the same way we ask our students to do.
31. Don't wear your mistakes. Learn from them, remove them from your shoulders, and move on.
32. Keep in mind that you will never please everyone. Let it go.
33. Realize the significant power you have to make a difference in others' lives each and every day.
34. MAKE IT HAPPEN!
